One can find tons of different dating services available and no matter what you are looking for, there's no doubt you'll find the service that suits you the best. The Russian dating business is growing rapidly as more guys than ever before are looking for companions overseas. The companies have come up with a new service called the Russian Dating Tours, a perfectly organised event for likely couples to learn more about each other. If you haven't been in the European dating scene for too long, you might think that this isn't doable. Travelling hundreds of miles to Russia, seeing sights, taking tours, and meeting ladies at the same time may seem a tad silly for some. It sounds like this might be too much trouble and a lot more expensive when compared with cyber dating. Although this is true, thousands of men are ready to pay the extra money to get the dating experience of their life.

Popular Locations

Russia is a country with unique history. Several heritage sites and interesting places make it the perfect place for a vacation. With these Russian dating tours, the most visited places are Moscow and St. Petersburg, just to name a few. These places have been chosen because of their beautiful scenery, 5-star bars and clubs and, of course, the number of gorgeous local girls in the area.

Fees

When talking about the standard prices for the Russian dating tours, it usually differs from company to company just like the social activities differ for each one. Expect to pay between $2,000-$5,000. If you book the tour ahead of time, there are special rates that may apply. Even though these tours are mainly made for American customers, non-US clients can purchase a land only package with everything included except the airfare. The prices might also include special offers like membership deals or credits for the agency's website or service. Chances are, if you meet your perfect match, the company might help with the paperwork of a fiancé visa.

What's Included

Most of the costs of your trip are included in the tour – from flight tickets and transfers to professional translators and social events. Agencies try the best they can in providing you with everything you need so when you are on the Romance Tour, all you have to do is focus on dating the beautiful Russian ladies. The length of each tour is different and depends on the organization you have chosen, but to offer the maximum and allow you to take your time, the tours last for about 12-14 days.

Choose the best Dating Tour

When choosing the perfect dating package for you, you'll be surprised to learn that it will be very similar to choosing a holiday package. Things to consider are:

- What experience am I expecting from this tour?
- Which tour operator can I trust the most?
- Which tour can I afford?

Before deciding on a tour, think of why you're going there at all. This will help you make your choice. Be sure to find out everything about what the package you're paying for includes – the type of your motel, planned activities, the food that's served, etc. If you have any doubts, don't be afraid to ask the company you're buying the service from. In addition to finding the girl you have always dreamed about, remember, you want to have the best dating experience possible too.
